“ "I offer your family my condolence, may the peace of God be with you all as you try and cope with the harshest of life's realities at this time. Hope and promises from our God in Heaven found in his word will help you to heal and will comfort your tender hearts. John 5:28,29, Revelation 21:4, have benefitted me in my times of loss, I pray they will be helpful to you as well."

“ Ann would call me to talk about her life and concerns, always caring for her family, the love she had for her good husband. She missed her Dad, brother and always loved her Mom. She always called Mama Simmons to find comfort in their talks. She will always live forever in our hearts and mind. She would want you to know that she loved you the most in the whole wide world. Love

“ Aunt Linda (Linda Simmons Holloway) For those of us left to morn Ann, I can honestly say she loved us with all of her heart. It seems like yesterday that I held her in my arms and said, “She is the most beautiful baby in the world.” I loved the way she would callÂ to simply say, “Aunt Linda, I love you.” Oh, those sweet words from a niece that could make my day by one of those calls. Ann had the gift of allowing those who were precious to her to feel her loved. We could all learn a lesson from Ann by showing and telling our relatives that we love them deeply. I loved her sweet spirit she displayed to her siblings. She hovered around them and protected them when they were little. She was a good cousin to my kids, Ashley and Lance. She loved her Alabama family so much and they loved her.Â I wish we lived closer, and I could have known her immediate family better. I know she loved her dad and mom so much. When I talked with Ann, it seemed she had always just gotten off the phone with her mom“they loved deeply. I talked with her the day before she went into the hospital. I told her again, “I have loved you since the day she was born.” She said “I feel that Aunt Linda. I know that.” The next time I told her I loved her, it was in the hospital and she barely whispered it “but she knew it was me. It really didn’t need an answer because she had made me feel it over and over again her entire life. If we could all say “We Love You” more often, the world would be a better place. It is a better place because Ann lived and loved! She was our example of how we are to treat other people“by loving them with all your heart and mind. We will never forget her! Â
