“ My sympathy to Chris's entire family. I didn't personally know Chris that well other than some fun banter on FB, but I felt like I know him through my many conversations with his dad. Larry was extremely proud of his children and shared so many stories/updates about them. I still have a Todd Bodine picture that Chris autographed and his dad proudly brought me to work. All I can say is Chris, I hope you get to hook up with your parents and please tell your dad that I still miss his wit, something I have come to know is a skill that you both share. I'd love to be able to share a beer with both of you so please open a cold one for me and bottom's up. RIP Chris, you're one of the good guys.
